Secret Soviet-Czech Meet Raises Fears In Prague

PRAGUE (AP) — Uneasiness was felt in Prague today over a weekend Soviet-Czechoslovak summit meeting held in the Ukraine amid the kind of secrecy that was common before Alexander Dubcek came to power.

The two-day talks in Kiev covered "issues of common interest" including "further development of cooperation" between the two Communist parties and countries, a vague communique issued Sunday in Moscow said.

It said the talks "passed in a cordial atmosphere, in comradely and friendly spirit." The language was warmer than that used to describe previous Soviet-Czechoslovak meetings, but there was no mention of "complete unity of views"—the Communist phrase to describe agreement fully satisfying the Kremlin.

Most Czechoslovak officials and the local press was kept in the dark about the meeting until after it was over. This was in marked contrast to nearly all earlier meetings which Communist party chief Dubcek and his associates held with Kremlin officials, both before and after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August.

The extreme secrecy was a blow to Czechoslovak journalists, intellectuals, students and factory groups who have been protesting the drastic curtailment of their freedoms.

ment of information since the invasion.

Journalists have been working to establish a dialogue with the authorities and to reopen channels of information. Two weeks ago all leading cultural unions adopted a resolution warning that despite all promises the government was returning to "a closed-door policy of secret... without any possibility for citizens to criticize or take part."

The Soviet delegation was headed by Communist party General Secretary Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin.

Some concern was felt in Prague that the progressive Dubcek was virtually isolated on his five-member delegation because the four men who accompanied him are regarded as members of a growing "center" group that stresses accommodation to Soviet demands rather than preservation of Dubcek-era reforms.

FATALLY INJURED — An 8-year-old boy fatally injured in an auto accident Saturday evening is placed on an ambulance stretcher by members of the State Highway Patrol. The accident, at the intersection of Route 23 and DuPont Road, is the 16th fatal traffic accident in Pickaway County during 1968.

An 8-year-old boy became the 16th traffic fatality in Pickaway County for 1968 following a collision Saturday evening.

The child, Chris Hunter of Chillicothe, was injured in a two-car accident on Route 23 at the intersection of DuPont Road about 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

Final Count Could Exceed 1,000 Enemy

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marines closed out their massive cordon operation south of Da Nang today with another flurry of stiff bunker fighting. At least 862 North Vietnamese soldiers were claimed killed in the 20-day campaign.

Some field reports were still missing, and some senior officers estimated the total enemy losses may approach 1,000 when the final count is made. A hundred North Vietnamese troops were taken prisoner.

Marine casualties for the entire operation, called Meade River, were 95 killed and 504 wounded. Nearly half of the U.S. and enemy casualties were taken in the last five days as the "Leathernecks" encirclement shrank to less than a square mile.

Staff officers said preliminary intelligence indicated that major portions of four battalions of the North Vietnamese Army's (Continued on Page 12)

Egypt OKs Idea Of U.N. Peace Force's Return

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt is reported willing to accept another U.N. force to help safeguard a peace settlement with Israel, diplomatic sources at the United Nations report.

The sources said Egypt's delegate to the United Nations, Mohamed Awad El Kony, included the idea in a seven-point statement he gave to Chief U.S. delegate J.R. Wiggins Thursday.

Egypt accepted a U.N. force after the 1956 Suez invasion, and the force prevented Egypt from closing the Gulf of Aqaba, alongside the Sinai desert, to Israeli shipping.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered the force out in 1967 and said Israel couldn't use the gulf. Shortly afterward, Israel drove the Egyptians out of Sinai in the six days' war.

The diplomatic sources said Egypt now would accept a new U.N. force to supervise Israel's withdrawal from the peninsula and remain at mutually agreed on places, including the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

El Kony's proposal came in response to a seven-point program U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was said to have outlined a month ago to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad. The State Department denied the existence of such a program last week.

Meanwhile, the U.N. special envoy for the Middle East, Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, flew back to his headquarters in Cyprus after talks with Jordanian leaders in Amman.

Jordan Premier Bahjat Talhouni told his Parliament that Israel's attitude is preventing progress by Jarring's mission, and that Jordan and Egypt will go no further with Jarring until Israel expresses willingness to implement the U.N. Security Council resolution calling for Israel's withdrawal from the Arab territory it occupied in the 1967 war.

Triple Fatality
Crash Is Worst

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Single-car accidents accounted for most of Ohio's traffic deaths again over the weekend.

Of the 18 fatalities reported from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday, only six occurred in accidents involving more than one car.

And, of those, three came in a two-car smashup Saturday on U. S. 24 near Antwerp in Paulding County. The victims were Jack C. Laney, 36, Antwerp; James Green, 26, Route 1, Antwerp, and his 5-year-old daughter Carol.

The latest deaths:

Edgar Morgan, 42, rural Howard in Knox County, when his car hit a parked car and tree in Mount Vernon.

Mrs. Henry C. Bibbs, 45, of Springfield Township in Hamilton County, when her car left Ohio 4 near her home and crashed into a tree.

Laura Hadsell, about 70, Cincinnati, was struck by a car and killed in Cincinnati.

Gary L. Spencer, 19, Hamilton, died when his car crashed at an intersection near Wilmington.

Glen Curtis, 62, Perrysburg, Wood County, died in a Toledo hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered in a two-car crash on Ohio 25 near Bowling Green Saturday night.

Hear Testimony Against 2 Girls In Dual Slaying

NEWCASTLE, England (AP) — Two school girls accused of killing little boys for pleasure treated the death of one victim as a huge joke, a court was told today.

Testimony by relatives of two murdered boys came on the third day of the trial of Norma Bell, 13, and Mary Flora Bell, 11.

The girls, unrelated but next-door neighbors in this northeast city, stand accused of slaying Martin Brown, 4, and Brian Howe, 3, "solely for the pleasure and excitement afford by killing."

The girls both pleaded not guilty to the double murder charge. The case is being heard by Judge Sir Ralph Cusack before a jury of seven men and five women at Newcastle Assizes. It is expected to last at least seven days.

Youth Is Shot During Attempted Store Burglary

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 19-year-old youth from the Avondale section was shot and wounded early today during a burglary attempt at the Kousin's Ltd., clothing store on Reading Rd.

Two juveniles were captured inside the store.

Police identified the wounded youth as Gregory Delaney. They said he was shot in the right arm and in a leg as he tried to run. The officers said Gregory was carrying a snub-nosed revolver.

The trio had a stolen automobile parked near the scene, police said.

Senate Group Sets Consumer Credit Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The importance of a persons' credit ratings has grown in recent years with the bounding use of charge accounts. Many businesses rely on reports from various credit reporting firms, not only for an indication whether to provide charge accounts but to determine whether a prospective employee is reliable enough to be hired.

The scope of the hearings will include claims of careless reporting, technical and vengeful mistakes, conflicts of interest and the increasing concentration among the credit reporting companies.

On the basis of the subcommittee staff's preliminary findings released last spring, the senator will hear such claims as:

—Bad credit can result from confusion over similar or identical names.

—One man was unable to get a job because a former employer had furnished a reporting agency with false information. The man successfully sued his former boss.

—In more than two-thirds of the country's biggest cities, a collection agency attempting to collect a disputed bill is owned by the same organization that runs the agency which reports on the person's credit.

—A firm which did business with the government last year to the tune of $500 million has purchased part of a fast-growing computerized credit data agency.

One of the 13 credit reporting firms involved in the inquiry in Retail Credit Co., of Atlanta, Ga., which is also under scrutiny by the Justice Department for possible antitrust violations.

Retail Credit, which already owns Credit Bureaus Inc., of Georgia and its 58 local companies in the East, South and California is moving to buy 36 more reporting bureaus from the Francis Smith interests in four western states.

The three company spokesmen to testify are:

—Retail Credit attorney Robert W. Biecum.

—Dr. Harry C. Jordan, chairman of Credit Data Corp., who told a House subcommittee last March that his firm could have every American's name listed on its computers by 1973.

TRW Inc., a diversified firm that did half-a-billion dollars in government business last year, already owns part of Credit Data and may buy the rest.

John L. Spafford, vice president of Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc., which maintains credit ratings on almost 100 million people.

Associated Credit local bureaus was found by the subcommittee to have been under the same ownership as collection agencies in more than two-thirds of the 130 cities with population of more than 100,000.

U.S. Destroyers In Black Sea; Russians Cry 'Foul'

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Two destroyers of the U.S. 6th Fleet sailed through the Bosphorus today for a five-day cruise along Turkey's Black Sea Coast. The Russians called the American naval visit to their southern doorstep a provocation, a threat to peace and Soviet security, and a violation of the 1936 Montreux Convention.

The 3,500-ton Dyess led the way through the narrow strait between the Sea of Marmara and the Black Sea. Her sister ship the Turner followed about an hour later.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported Sunday that its correspondent had seen the two destroyers pass through the Bosphorus and slip "like thieves" into the landlocked Black Sea. But the ships anchored in the Sea of Marmara for the night, abiding by the provision of the Montreux Convention that bars transit of the strait after nightfall.

Izvestia claimed that the ships' passage through the Bosphorus violated the Montreux Convention regulating use of the strait because the two destroyers were equipped with missiles capable of delivering nuclear weapons and because the convention bars ships of any nation at war.

Turkish and American officials rejected the Soviet charges and said the ships were making a routine visit that was in conformity with the convention.

B-r-r-risk Air Chills Eastern United States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pleup of arctic air continued to chill the eastern half of the nation today, sending its icy winds into the Deep South and spreading snow over the Northeast.

Freezing temperatures also dominated the intermountain regions of the West while the coastal storm dampened the north and central Pacific coast with windswept rain that turned to snow in the mountains of Washington and Oregon. Gale warnings were issued along the northern Pacific beaches.

In the South, a hard freeze gripped Georgia and Alabama with pre-dawn temperatures in the 20s and frost glistened along Florida's northern borders.

Cold air sweeping eastward over the Great Lakes picked up moisture from the relatively warm water and dumped it as snow over the Appalachians. Pittsburgh absorbed an additional four inches late Sunday and up to a foot of snow is expected in the mountains of Maryland and Virginia today.

Snow also dusted the north-central border states but most of the nation, except for the extreme South and the Southwest, shivered under clear skies.

Early morning temperatures ranged from seven degrees at Wausau, Wis., to 61 at Key West, Fla.

17 Are Missing From Collision Between Ships

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty-one servicemen have been killed in three separate accidents, the worst a ship collision that sent a Coast Guard buoy tender to the bottom of the Mississippi River with 17 crewmen aboard.

A pilot parachuted to safety Sunday when a hovercraft used to train astronauts went out of control and crashed at the Houston, Tex., Space Center. It was the second time a moon landing training craft has crashed.

Four fliers abandoned their T33 jet trainers in Greenland Sunday night after their three planes ran out of fuel on a flight from Newfoundland. They were rescued by a Danish helicopter.

Only three of the 20-man crew of the buoy tender White Alder were rescued when it was sliced in half Saturday night by the Nationalist Chinese freighter Helena at White Castle, La., about 30 miles downstream from Baton Rouge.

The trio was found clinging to a buoy. One man had been burned.

"They were very lucky men," said Sheriff Bo Williams of Iberville Parish. "They were freezing."

The Coast Guard declined to speculate on how the collision might have occurred. There was no fog.

The other fatal accidents occurred Saturday on carriers taking part in a U.S. Navy exercise, "Beef Trust," about 40 miles from the West Coast.

Lt. Cmdr. Robert J. Simonie, 35, of Lemore Naval Air Station, Calif., ejected from his Corsair II about five miles from the carrier Enterprise and drowned. The Navy said it could not explain why he abandoned the plane.

Airman J. A. Fischer, 21; Aviation Boatswain's Mate 3. C. Leroy Ervin, 20, and Aviation Boatswain Mate 1.C. G. A. Smith, 31, were asphyxiated when a gasoline line broke in a pump room aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk.

Cold air sweeping eastward over the Great Lakes picked up moisture from the relatively warm water and dumped it as snow over the Appalachians. Pittsburgh absorbed an additional four inches late Sunday and up to a foot of snow is expected in the mountains of Maryland and Virginia today.

Snow also dusted the north-central border states but most of the nation, except for the extreme South and the Southwest, shivered under clear skies.

Early morning temperatures ranged from seven degrees at Wausau, Wis., to 61 at Key West, Fla.

TODAY In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — A physicist says the Apollo 8 moon orbital mission is an unwarranted gamble. An astronaut who will fly the mission says he's willing to take the chance.
Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, assistant laboratory director of the team that developed the atomic bomb, said in a magazine interview the project should be delayed until there is some way to assist Apollo 8 if it becomes stranded in space during its Christmas flight.
But Astronaut Frank Borman, speaking at a news conference in Houston, Tex., Saturday said, "As I look at it, it's something like a combat tour in Vietnam."
"The risks we take are acceptable ones. We have to accept them to believe it's worthwhile. If I ever feel it's not worthwhile, then I'll quit."

British astronomer Sir Bernard Lovell of Jodrell Bank Observatory had said earlier Apollo 8 poses "undue risks to human life."
Lapp said in an interview for the Dec. 14 issue of "The New Republic" magazine the oxigen in the ship could keep the three astronauts alive for only two weeks and no other craft is available yet to go to their rescue.
If the engine fails, the astronauts would be "unable to get out and fix the engine. They are completely dependent on that engine firing."

A RED lobster sits there staring you in the face... Or rather parts of several lobsters sit there staring you in the face when you visit the county auditor's office... The creation, named Sam and made of the head and snappers of several lobsters, was a table decoration at the State Auditor's Convention Sunday... County Auditor Marvane Rhoades and Margaret Remy, her assistant, fell in love with the vicious looking thing and brought it back to Pickaway County and put it on the front desk in the office... Lots of people are wondering if it ever bites.

Hanoi Spokesman Lashes At Ky

PARIS (AP) — A spokesman for North Vietnam's delegation to the Paris peace talks lashed at South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today, calling him "a puppet, a servant of the United States and a devotee of Hitler."
It was a forerunner of many charges and countercharges expected as the Vietnamese rivals maneuver toward the enlarged peace talks.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese teams set up a strategy sessions later in the day with Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance on the American side and Pham Dang Lam and Bui Diem, the ambassador to Washington, on Saigon's side.
The North Vietnamese blast at Ky came from Hanoi delegation spokesman Bui Nhan and referred to past remarks Ky had made about Hitler in South Vietnam.
Ky denied at the time that he was voicing any admiration for the former Nazi dictator. And in the course of his exuberant arrival here Sunday the jaunty former combat pilot repeatedly stressed he was no puppet of Uncle Sam.

The opening date of the expanded peace talks is still in doubt pending the outcome of another diplomatic dialogue between the United States and North Vietnam.
The shape of the table for the negotiations—of symbolic importance to the South Vietnamese and their rivals, the National Liberation Front—remained at issue after a week of private U.S.-North Vietnamese exchanges had threshed out other details for the first meeting of the delegations.
The Communists demand a square table to match their argument that this will be a four-sided conference in which the Viet Cong's NLF delegation has separate, equal status with the other three.
Ky re-emphasized on his arrival the Saigon-Washington view of the palfrey as two sided—between the allies and the Communists. He refused to even speak of the NLF, which his government regards as an United States law group. So the United States has proposed two long tables facing each other.
U.S. diplomats said they were keeping in touch with the North Vietnamese in hopes of working out an agreement.
The conference already has been held up five weeks beyond the opening date envisioned in President Johnson's Oct. 31 bomb-halt package. The first delay resulted from Saigon's boycott of the talks.

Nixon To Announce Entire Cabinet Roster Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon will fly to Washington Wednesday to announce his entire slate of cabinet nominees before national television cameras at 10 p.m., EST.

2 Injured In Collision, Auto Fire

A two-car accident and auto fire occurred on Route 23 near the Route 22 exit ramp about 6:35 a.m. Saturday.
Referred to their doctors were the drivers of the two cars: Harold Wolfe, 38, of 421 E. Mount St.; and Ocie Hughes, 48, Chillicothe.

The Hughes vehicle was southbound on Route 23 when the Wolfe car, coming off the north exit ramp of Route 22, pulled in front of it. The Wolfe vehicle then appears to have slowed down, according to the sheriff's report, and was struck in the rear by the Hughes car.

Hughes stated that he saw the Wolfe automobile stopping and swerved his car to avoid a collision, but was unsuccessful.
During the accident Wolfe lost a cigar that he had been smoking. The cigar fell onto the front seat, catching the inside of the car on fire. The fire alarm was answered by the Circleville Fire Department.

Hughes was cited for failing to maintain assured clear distance ahead, according to a report filed by Sheriff's Deputy R. W. Hoover.

Stock List Advances

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced in active trading early this afternoon.

After a week of consolidation, the market rose, with gains outnumbering losses by about 220 issues on the Big Board.

The continuing rise in steel orders, the restoration of recent steel price cuts, and confidence among manufacturers that their sales would continue to gain in 1969 were among factors cited by analysts.
The market took off from a mild recovery movement on Friday as a losing week ended — a week that came after four straight weeks of rallying.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 367.7 with industrials up .6, rails up .4 and utilities up .6.
The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.31 at 979.55.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

TODAY In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — A physicist says the Apollo 8 moon orbital mission is an unwarranted gamble. An astronaut who will fly the mission says he's willing to take the chance.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, assistant laboratory director of the team that developed the atomic bomb, said in a magazine interview the project should be delayed until there is some way to assist Apollo 8 if it becomes stranded in space during its Christmas flight.

But Astronaut Frank Borman, speaking at a news conference in Houston, Tex., Saturday said, "As I look at it, it's something like a combat tour in Vietnam."

"The risks we take are acceptable ones. We have to accept them to believe it's worthwhile. If I ever feel it's not worthwhile, then I'll quit."

British astronomer Sir Bernard Lovell of Jodrell Bank Observatory had said earlier Apollo 8 poses "undue risks to human life."

Lapp said in an interview for the Dec. 14 issue of "The New Republic" magazine the oxygen in the ship could keep the three astronauts alive for only two weeks and no other craft is available yet to go to their rescue.

If the engine fails, the astronauts would be "unable to get out and fix the engine. They are completely dependent on that engine firing."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican freshmen senators have advocated retention of Ray Bliss as Republican national chairman.

Marlow Cook of Kentucky, Robert Dole of Kansas and Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, appearing together on ABC's "Issues and Answers" Sunday, matched the praise for Bliss generated by the Republican governors conference in Palm Springs, Calif., Saturday.

"I think he's done a good job and should be retained," said Schweiker.

"I'm on his side," said Cook. President elect Richard M. Nixon has not said so far whether he favors keeping Bliss in the post.

Hanoi Spokesman Lashes At Ky

PARIS (AP) — A spokesman for North Vietnam's delegation to the Paris peace talks lashed at South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today, calling him "a puppet, a servant of the United States and a devotee of Hitler."

It was a forerunner of many charges and countercharges expected as the Vietnamese rivals maneuver toward the enlarged peace talks.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese teams set up a strategy sessions later in the day with Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance on the American side and Pham Dang Lam and Bui Diem, the ambassador to Washington, on Saigon's side.

The North Vietnamese blast at Ky came from Hanoi delegation spokesman Bui Nhan and referred to past remarks Ky had made about Hitler in South Vietnam.

Ky denied at the time that he was voicing any admiration for the former Nazi dictator. And in the course of his exuberant arrival here Sunday the jaunty former combat pilot repeatedly stressed he was no puppet of Uncle Sam.

The opening date of the expanded peace talks is still in doubt pending the outcome of another diplomatic dialogue between the United States and North Vietnam.

The shape of the table for the negotiations—of symbolic importance to the South Vietnamese and their rivals, the National Liberation Front—remained at issue after a week of private U.S.-North Vietnamese exchanges had threshed out other details for the first meeting of the delegations.

The Communists demand a square table to match their argument that this will be a four-sided conference in which the Viet Cong's NLF delegation has separate, equal status with the other three.

Ky re-emphasized on his arrival the Saigon-Washington view of the parley as two sided—between the allies and the Communists. He refused to even speak of the NLF, which his government regards as an outlaw group. So the United States has proposed two long tables facing each other.

U.S. diplomats said they were keeping in touch with the North Vietnamese in hopes of working out an agreement.

The conference already has been held up five weeks beyond the opening date envisioned in President Johnson's Oct. 31 bomb-halt package. The first delay resulted from Saigon's boycott of the talks.

Nixon To Announce Entire Cabinet Roster Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon will fly to Washington Wednesday to announce his entire slate of cabinet nominees before national television cameras at 10 p.m., EST.

Ron L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced this today and said that Nixon, who would be accompanied by members of his new cabinet, might take the occasion to also disclose "other major appointments."

The president-elect will make his announcement in the Palladium Room at the Shoreham Hotel. The national television and radio networks have been invited to provide live coverage of the event, and there seemed little doubt that one or all of them would snap up the offer.

Ziegler said it would be fair to conclude that Nixon now has made final decisions on his choices to head the 12 cabinet departments.

Asked to comment on widespread reports that Republican Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin has been tagged to be secretary of defense, Ziegler said, "I can neither confirm nor deny any speculation with respect to the cabinet."

Presidents-elect normally dribble out cabinet announcements over a period of days and even weeks. But Nixon decided to make one big splash by announcing all at once and, to quote Ziegler, "thought Washington, D.C., was the appropriate place to make an announcement of this magnitude."

On Thursday morning, Nixon will meet with his new cabinet at the Shoreham, where he will spend the night. He will return to New York later in the day, Ziegler said.

On Nixon's public schedule for today were two prominent callers, Robert B. Anderson, who was under secretary of defense and secretary of the Treasury in the Eisenhower administration, and William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

In the evening, Nixon was to address a national board meeting of the Boys Clubs of America at a Manhattan hotel.

Nixon, who has indicated he will seek early meetings with Western European leaders, has added fuel to the active rumor mill here by conferring nearly two hours with R. Sargent Shriver, ambassador to France.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — "Pinocchio," one of childhood's classics, underwent considerable plastic surgery in Sunday night's 90-minute "Hall of Fame" production on NBC.

The little puppet still had trouble with his nose, which grew each time he told a lie, and he did turn into a real boy at the end. But in between, he and his papa, the wood carver Gepetto, became involved in some new adventures and in some sly commentaries on contemporary society. And they sang some songs in the modern idiom that ranged from ballad to rock 'n' roll.

Amid one of those eye-catching and lavish "Hall of Fame" productions, "Pinocchio" was translated into a musical comedy with fantasy that, while not completely satisfying, was an interesting decorating job.

Peter Moore, leader of a pop British musical group, played the title role in a sort of floppy, idiot fashion. While his appearance may have attracted young fans of his "Herman's Hermits," the role needed a young man with greater acting skill and dancing ability. Burl Ives, cast as Gepetto, had one dandy song, "Too Soon," but was stuck with a role that had neither humor nor depth.

A number of amusing adult asides were added by Ernest Kinoy who rewrote the old story.

Burned Scrolls Buried By Jews

NEW YORK (AP) — "O God, pagans have defiled Your Holy Sanctuary."

With these words from the 79th Psalm, some 2,000 Orthodox Jews Sunday buried the remains of seven Torahs— or sacred scrolls—which were destroyed in a fire set by vandals in Brooklyn Nov. 27. Some of the Torahs had been saved from the Nazis during World War II.

The mourners, dressed in black, gathered before the burial for a funeral service outside the Yeshiva of Eastern Parkway.

AFBF Chief Urges End To Farm Controls

KANSAS CITY (AP) —

Present government farm programs should be dismantled and replaced with devices to help successful farmers move gradually into a market-oriented economy free of federal controls and payments, says Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"It should be recognized that the low-income problems in agriculture are of two distinctly different kinds—those of the commercial farmers who receive most of their income from farming, and those of the part-time, subsistence and rural resident farmers," Shuman said.

The latter type, he said, needs a program offering help to become more productive either in agriculture or in some other job.

Shuman's speech was prepared for delivery today at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau.

The Farm Bureau, which represents about 1.8 million families, has vigorously opposed the farm programs of the Democratic administration.

Shuman said that with a change to a Republican administration the Farm Bureau has won, "for all practical purposes," its long fight to end acreage controls and "government management of farm prices" through existing programs.

"The general public is finally beginning to recognize that a government-planned agriculture is a costly exercise in futility," he said.

But the present programs should not be dumped all at once, Shuman said. Instead, "transitional assistance or a reasonable assurance" against losses during an adjustment toward a free economy should be provided, he said.

"This transitional assistance could take the form of substantial land retirement programs, indemnity or adjustment payments to compensate for the capitalized value of allotments, loans to facilitate orderly marketing, and protection against dumping of government-held stocks on the market to depress prices," Shuman said.

Exports of U.S. farm products could be doubled in the next four or five years, Shuman said, if federal trade negotiators would bargain "with any or all free nations" either unilaterally or among several at one time.

"In order to pursue this hard-nosed bargaining policy successfully, it will be necessary for Congress to discontinue direct subsidies to farmers," Shuman said. "These payments are recognized by foreign nations as a form of export subsidy."

He said Congress must resist demand for import barriers to protect domestic goods which have met increased competition from foreign producers. "Trade is a two-way street," Shuman added.

The farm leader called for "badly needed reorganization" of agricultural research and programs to help land grant colleges improve their research functions.

Shuman said Congress also has the responsibility for bringing government spending in line with income.

Farm Bureau officials were met Sunday by pickets who said they supported the United Farm Workers national boycott of California table grapes.

The Farm Bureau has opposed the boycott and its officials say that if unionization is forced on California growers other farm commodities could encounter the same treatment.

Shuman said Congress also has the responsibility for bringing government spending in line with income.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases — to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Pinocchio," one of childhood's classics, underwent considerable plastic surgery in Sunday night's 90-minute "Hall of Fame" production on NBC.

The little puppet still had trouble with his nose, which grew each time he told a lie, and he did turn into a real boy at the end. But in between, he and his papa, the wood carver Gepetto, became involved in some new adventures and in some silly commentaries on contemporary society. And they sang some songs in the modern idiom that ranged from ballad to rock 'n' roll.

Amid one of those eye-catching and lavish "Hall of Fame" productions, "Pinocchio" was translated into a musical comedy with fantasy that, while not completely satisfying, was an interesting decorating job.

Peter Moore, leader of a pop British musical group, played the title role in a sort of floppy, idiot fashion. While his appearance may have attracted young fans of his "Herman's Hermits," the role needed a young man with greater acting skill and dancing ability. Burl Ives, cast as Gepetto, had one dandy song, "Too Soon," but was stuck with a role that had neither humor nor depth.

A number of amusing adult asides were added by Ernest Kinoy who rewrote the old story.

Burned Scrolls

Buried By Jews

NEW YORK (AP) — "O God, pagans have defiled Your Holy Sanctuary."

With these words from the 79th Psalm, some 2,000 Orthodox Jews Sunday buried the remains of seven torahs—or sacred scrolls—which were destroyed in a fire set by vandals in Brooklyn Nov. 27. Some of the torahs had been saved from the Nazis during World War II.

The mourners, dressed in black, gathered before the burial for a funeral service outside the Yeshiva of Eastern Parkway.

AFBF Chief Urges End To Farm Controls

KANSAS CITY (AP) —

Present government farm programs should be dismantled and replaced with devices to help successful farmers move gradually into a market-oriented economy free of federal controls and payments, says Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"It should be recognized that the low-income problems in agriculture are of two distinctly different kinds—those of the commercial farmers who receive most of their income from farming, and those of the part-time, subsistence and rural resident farmers," Shuman said.

The latter type, he said, needs a program offering help to become more productive either in agriculture or in some other job.

Shuman's speech was prepared for delivery today at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau.

The Farm Bureau, which represents about 1.8 million families, has vigorously opposed the farm programs of the Democratic administration.

Shuman said that with a change to a Republican administration the Farm Bureau has won, "for all practical purposes," its long fight to end acreage controls and "government management of farm prices" through existing programs.

"The general public is finally beginning to recognize that a government-planned agriculture is a costly exercise in futility," he said.

But the present programs should not be dumped all at once, Shuman said. Instead, "transitional assistance or a reasonable assurance" against losses during an adjustment toward a free economy should be provided, he said.

"This transitional assistance could take the form of substantial land retirement programs, indemnity or adjustment payments to compensate for the capitalized value of allotments, loans to facilitate orderly marketing, and protection against dumping of government-held stocks on the market to depress prices," Shuman said.

Exports of U.S. farm products could be doubled in the next four or five years, Shuman said, if federal trade negotiators would bargain "with any or all free nations" either unilaterally or among several at one time.

"In order to pursue this hard-nosed bargaining policy successfully, it will be necessary for Congress to discontinue direct subsidies to farmers," Shuman said. "These payments are recognized by foreign nations as a form of export subsidy."

He said Congress must resist demand for import barriers to protect domestic goods which have met increased competition from foreign producers. "Trade is a two-way street," Shuman added.

The farm leader called for "badly needed reorganization" of agricultural research and programs to help land grant colleges improve their research functions.

Shuman said Congress also has the responsibility for bringing government spending in line with income.

Farm Bureau officials were met Sunday by pickets who said they supported the United Farm Workers national boycott of California table grapes.

The Farm Bureau has opposed the boycott and its officials say that if unionization is forced on California growers other farm commodities could encounter the same treatment.

Big Money For Spenders

Something interesting is happening to U.S. currency, and it has nothing to do with balance of payments or other monetary crises. The lower denomination bills are decreasing in popularity and the higher notes are in greater demand.

Figures released by the Federal Reserve tell the story. Comparisons between July 1967 and this past July (the latest month for which figures are available) show the number of $1 bills in circulation has declined by 2 million, but the number of $100 bills increased by more than 6.5 million.

Nearly one-third of the new money which entered circulation between the two Julys was in denominations of $50 or larger, and another third was in $20 bills.

Commenting on the growing preference for larger bills, a spokesman for the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston said, "The sorting and counting of $10 and $20 bills is as much of a problem as we used to have with $1 bills."

Growing individual wealth is an explanation offered by some Fed spokesmen. I-n-f-l-a-t-i-o-n might be another way of spelling it. As another Federal Reserve official so succinctly has put it "What can you do with a dollar bill these days anyway?"

Unfinished Business

One of the Defense Department mistakes which will be inherited unresolved by the Nixon administration is the F-111 fighter plane. The plane is neither as functional as originally intended nor as inexpensive.

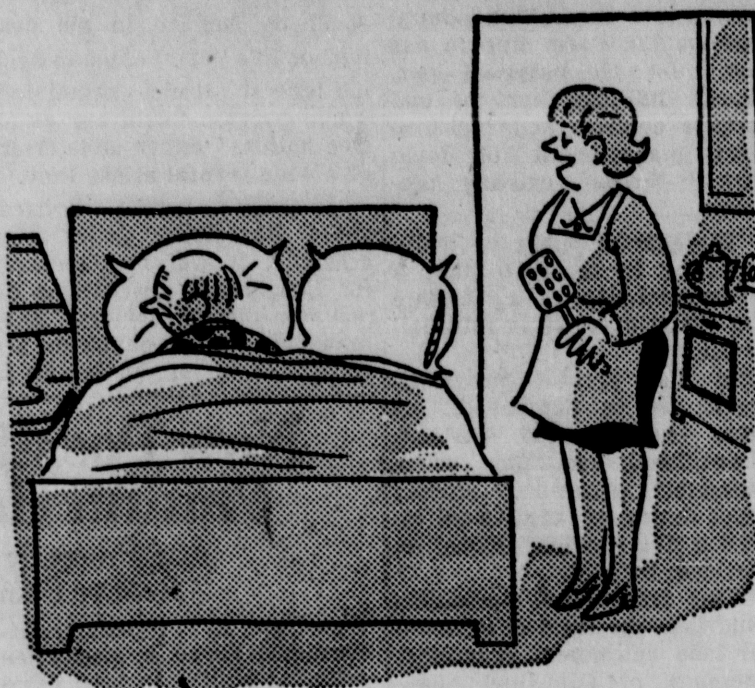

When it was known as the TFX the plane was envisioned as a multipurpose aircraft for both the Air Force and Navy. The Navy has pulled out of the program because the craft proved too heavy for carriers and the Air Force is seriously considering dropping the bomber phase of the program.

Numerous crashes have cast doubt on the plane's basic design and have caused periods of restricted flight or grounding of the craft.

The cost has been estimated by Sen. Stuart Symington — who wants to scrap the project — at $13 million each, three times the original estimate. Military men point out that they were opposed almost to a man to the TFX design, and use it as an example of the folly of McNamara's "cost effectiveness" approach.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A STURDY ten-year-old was allowed to fly by himself across the continent in a commercial jet. He arrived in L.A., however, dissolved in tears. "You know that get-sick container they give you?" he explained between sobs. "Well, I tried and I tried, but I just couldn't get to use it."

Vance Randolph, of the Ozark country, tells of a pioneer who cut a great big hickory tree on a steep hillside. It rolled to the bottom of a hollow, then half-way up the opposite side. Then it came rolling back toward the chopper, and kept bouncing back and forth, until the woodcutter got bored and went home. Six months later he came back, and the tree was still rolling, but it was just about petered out. It was so worn down, in fact, that the pioneer picked it up, stuck one end of it in the fire, then lit his pipe with it.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Are stones in the gall bladder caused by diet alone? When should they be removed by surgery?

In order to clarify the problem of stones in the gall bladder, the location and function of the gall bladder must be understood. The bladder is a small pear shaped sac which lies in the abdomen high on the right side and covered by an extension of the liver. The gall bladder itself does not manufacture bile. It stores this valuable digestive juice which is made in the liver. A tiny duct runs from the gall bladder to an opening in the small intestine. Whenever a heavy fatty meal is consumed, a signal is sent to the gall bladder to contract and pour some of the bile into the intestine to start the digestion of the fatty food.

Some people are more prone than others to form stones in the gall bladder and in the ducts that lead to and from it. Diet undoubtedly is one of the important contributing factors, but infection, too, plays a role. Women tend to develop stones about three or four times more often than men. Pregnancy, with its hormone and perhaps dietary changes, may be a partial explanation for this.

Small stones in the gall bladder may lie dormant for many years without giving any symptoms and may be found during a routine X-ray taken for a totally different reason. Unfortunately there are no known easy method to dissolve stones by drugs. Surgery therefore becomes the simplest and safest method of treatment when distressing symptoms are present. Repeated attacks of indigestion with painful spasms and distension should not be tolerated when once the diagnosis is established by the study of the gall bladder with X-rays and with dyes.

Occasionally a small stone may become wedged into the ducts and cause damming back of bile, producing yellow jaundice and other complications. Sometimes stones can be removed from the gall bladder or from the ducts without removing the gall bladder itself. Such decisions depend entirely on the judgment of the surgeon and the condition that he finds at the time of operation. Deliberate delay of surgery when it is distinctly indicated invites unnecessary trouble.

Are there any new hopes on the horizon for baldness?

The type of baldness that is referred to as family pattern baldness still resists the active efforts known to hair specialists. Vitamins, hormones, lotions and vibratory massages may bring out an occasional quarter inch of fuzz, but in general they are ineffective.

There are types of alopecia or baldness which may be due to prolonged illness with very high fevers, ringworm infection, hormone imbalance and psychological stress. Almost always, with or without treatment except for local infections, the hair will spontaneously grow again.

The most encouraging new approach to pattern baldness has been the transplantation of hair. This is a technique of taking small tufts of hair and implanting them near the edge of the balding area. The method is painstaking but in the hands of highly specialized physicians, this office procedure is said to be effective in a fair number of cases.

To encourage a "slow sneeze" look directly into a shining light.

Agnew To Speak To City Officials

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Officials of the nation's cities, uneasy over the Nixon administration's urban policy approach, look for reassurance today from Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew.

President-elect Richard M. Nixon had been invited to speak at the 45th annual Congress of Cities but declined because of prior commitments. Agnew was sent instead.

The speakers' list today also included Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Attentive Audience

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The beauty shop was full when one of the employees, Mrs. Robert Hazlett, received a short wave radio call from her husband in Vietnam.

The call was being relayed by a ham operator and in order not to interfere with the reception, the shop manager pulled the switch on all equipment in the shop.

Riponites Vs Harris Poll

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Ripon Society, which calls itself a liberal Republican research group, has come up with a theory that Richard M. Nixon actually lost the real trust of the country by pursuing a "border state strategy" to win the White House. The Ripon idea is that Nixon, back in September, had a landslide victory in his grasp if only he had had the wit to make his pitch to the blacks, the young campus radicals, and the McCarthy liberals. But the "new Nixon," according to the Riponites, fell into the trap baited by Hubert Humphrey: he let himself be cast as an "anti-union" or warmongering type without lifting a finger to show he had learned something since the Nineteen Fifties.

There are just two things that are questionable about the Ripon analysis. First, it presents no assurance whatsoever that if Nixon had disowned the "border state strategy" which gave him his margin of victory he might have picked up the compensating electoral votes in New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and Michigan.

The second dubious Ripon assumption is that Nixon actually "obliged" the Democrats by playing the "old Nixon" role. True enough, it was the Humphrey strategy to raise the ghosts of the "old Nixon" of Cold Warrior days. No doubt more than a few undecided voters turned against Nixon in the final hours of the campaign because of the persistent effort to portray him as an enemy of all "forward-looking" social legislation. But, as a dutiful reader of all the voluminous position papers and radio scripts which Nixon put out through the October weeks, I could never find anything of the supposed "old Nixon" in them.

Nixon really wanted to cut in on the black vote. However, he wanted to do it without seeming to endorse the black power radicals who have declared war to the hilt on the "honkies." He tried his best to become the champion of a new "black capitalism," but he ran up against the suspicions of Roy Innis and other uncompromising black leaders who, though they refused to endorse the Humphrey Democrats, were leery of anyone carrying a Republican label. The Riponites are a bit unfair in saying that Nixon "ignored" the Negro vote; he just didn't know how to pry the blacks away from old stereotypes. If he had said anything that could be interpreted as pro-black extremism he risked losing all the moderates in the state of the upper South and the lower Atlantic coast without changing anybody's mind in the Northern ghettos.

As for the young, Nixon wigwagged to them that he would get rid of the hated draft the moment that a change in the Vietnamese War permitted reconsideration. It was this bit of wigwagging that Humphrey termed "irresponsible." Why the young should have gone for Humphrey after that (if indeed they did go for him in any numbers) must be set down as an enigma.

What the Ripon theorists lose sight of is the undeniable fact that 1968 was a center-to-right and not a center-to-left year. The Louis Harris poll of December 2, published after the Ripon Society's conjectures, offers absolute confirmation of this. The Harris interviewers discovered that some seventy per cent of the American people consider themselves to be "conservative" or "middle of our day."

Since all "might-have-beens" are theoretically arguable, the Ripon Society's analysis cannot be dismissed out of hand. And, in deference to Ripon's hopes, it will be a good thing if Nixon does find a way of appealing to the blacks and to the young. But the Riponites have a long way to go to get around the figures presented by the Harris pollsters. If those figures can't be conjured away, Nixon still stands out as the master election campaign strategist of

40 YEARS AGO

The Shakespearean production of "Julius Caesar" was presented in Circleville by The Stratford Players.

Approximately $53,000 was paid to Pickaway County citizens who had Christmas savings deposits in two of the Circleville banks.

Broommaker William A. Goeller died of a gunshot wound from one of two men engaged in target practice.

New Holland and Atlanta Methodist churches were with out a minister, following the unceremonious departure of their pastor as a result of complaints but no formal charges.

A gift of 50 elm trees from Felix Caldwell were planted along the driveway leading to the Pickaway Country Club.

A Columbus doctor presented the children at the county home a large collie dog to replace their former pet which had been shot by a passerby.

Dr. G. W. Heffner was appointed health commissioner of Pickaway County — a post he had held for two years.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Being a vice president no longer makes you stand out very far from the crowd. America is getting to be a land of veeps. It is said there are now nearly half a million company vice presidents—a Gee Whiz item if true.

The more people ride around in cars, the bigger their feet seem to grow. The average shoe size for today's hulking young men is 10-D, a full size larger than the average of only a dozen years ago.

Speaking of automobiles, how many do you have and how old are they? Nearly one out of every four U.S. families now owns two or more cars. Some six million vehicles still on the road are 12 years of age or over.

Once a pioneer shows the way, others are usually quick to follow. Only 103 years ago, so far as is known, an Englishman named Edward Whymper first accomplished the formidable feat of climbing the famous Alpine peak, the Matterhorn. In favorable weather today, says the National Geographic Society, about 60 persons a day successfully scale it.

How about giving the U.S. farmer a pat on the back? He's getting more efficient all the time. Powered by machinery now rather than by the help of a lop-eared mule, he is able to grow enough food to feed himself and 42 other people, something no other man in history has been able to do.

Quotable notables: "Always fall in love with what you're asked to accept. Take what is given, and make it over your own way. My aim in life has always been to hold my own with whatever's going. Not against: with." —Poet Robert Frost.

Seasonal: Holly sprigs were symbols of cheer long before Christmas was widely observed. Ancient Greeks carried the shrub to bring good luck, just as some people today keep a rabbit foot in their pocket, and Romans thought that holly planted around their homes would ward off lightning.

Signs of the times: Love seems to be a universal tongue. Those popular "I Am Loved" buttons now are available in five languages.

Worth remembering: "It is very hard to fight temptation. There is always the nagging thought—it may not come again."

It was St. John of the Cross who advised, "Take heed not to meddle in things which do not concern you, nor even allow them to pass through your mind, for perhaps you will not then be able to fulfill your own task."

who have three or four children would be satisfied with one or two if they could pick the sex in advance. A choice of two isn't asking much.

In 20 years or so "we will probably be able to choose the sex of offspring," says Dr. Lieberman. Haven't parents got enough problems now?

Having a boy that wants to be a girl might not pose such a big problem, at that. Such mistakes are being corrected right along.

"When you go above two children . . . the mother and father just don't have the time and energy to raise the family and the children begin to suffer," says Dr. Lieberman. Well, it is better to have lived and suffered than never to have lived at all.

What Dr. Lieberman is after is controlled population. Like the universities.

Big Money For Spenders

Something interesting is happening to U.S. currency, and it has nothing to do with balance of payments or other monetary crises. The lower denomination bills are decreasing in popularity and the higher notes are in greater demand.

Figures released by the Federal Reserve tell the story. Comparisons between July 1967 and this past July (the latest month for which figures are available) show the number of $1 bills in circulation has declined by 2 million, but the number of $100 bills increased by more than 6.5 million.

Nearly one-third of the new money which entered circulation between the two Julys was in denominations of $50 or larger, and another third was in $20 bills.

Commenting on the growing preference for larger bills, a spokesman for the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston said, "The sorting and counting of $10 and $20 bills is as much of a problem as we used to have with $1 bills."

Growing individual wealth is an explanation offered by some Fed spokesmen. I-n-f-l-a-t-i-o-n might be another way of spelling it. As another Federal Reserve official so succinctly has put it "What can you do with a dollar bill these days anyway?"

Unfinished Business

One of the Defense Department mistakes which will be inherited unresolved by the Nixon administration is the F-111 fighter plane. The plane is neither as functional as originally intended nor as inexpensive.

When it was known as the TFX the plane was envisioned as a multipurpose aircraft for both the Air Force and Navy. The Navy has pulled out of the program because the craft proved too heavy for carriers and the Air Force is seriously considering dropping the bomber phase of the program.

Numerous crashes have cast doubt on the plane's basic design and have caused periods of restricted flight or grounding of the craft.

The cost has been estimated by Sen. Stuart Symington — who wants to scrap the project — at $13 million each, three times the original estimate. Military men point out that they were opposed almost to a man to the TFX design, and use it as an example of the folly of McNamara's "cost effectiveness" approach.

"It's time again to regret you didn't marry a rich woman."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A STURDY ten-year-old was allowed to fly by himself across the continent in a commercial jet. He arrived in L.A., however, dissolved in tears. "You know that get-sick container they give you?" he explained between sobs. "Well, I tried and I tried, but I just couldn't get to use it."

Vance Randolph, of the Ozark country, tells of a pioneer who cut a great big hickory tree on a steep hillside. It rolled to the bottom of a hollow, then half-way up the opposite side. Then it came rolling back toward the chopper, and kept bouncing back and forth, until the woodcutter got bored and went home. Six months later he came back, and the tree was still rolling, but it was just about petered out. It was so worn down, in fact, that the pioneer picked it up, stuck one end of it in the fire, then lit his pipe with it.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Are stones in the gall bladder caused by diet alone? When should they be removed by surgery?

In order to clarify the problem of stones in the gall bladder, the location and function of the gall bladder must be understood. The bladder is a small pear shaped sac which lies in the abdomen high on the right side and covered by an extension of the liver. The gall bladder itself does not manufacture bile. It stores this valuable digestive juice which is made in the liver. A tiny duct runs from the gall bladder to an opening in the small intestine. Whenever a heavy fatty meal is consumed, a signal is sent to the gall bladder to contract and pour some of the bile into the intestine to start the digestion of the fatty food.

Some people are more prone than others to form stones in the gall bladder and from it. Diet undoubtedly is one of the important contributing factors but infection, too, plays a role. Women tend to develop stones about three or four times more often than men. Pregnancy, with its hormone and perhaps dietary changes, may be a partial explanation for this.

Small stones in the gall bladder may lie dormant for many years without giving any symptoms and may be found during a routine X-ray taken for a totally different reason. Unfortunately there are no known easy method to dissolve stones by drugs. Surgery therefore becomes the simplest and safest method of treatment when distressing symptoms are present. Repeated attacks of indigestion with painful spasms and distension should not be tolerated when once the diagnosis is established by the study of the gall bladder with X-rays and with dyes.

Occasionally a small stone may become wedged into the ducts and cause damming back of bile, producing yellow jaundice and other complications. Sometimes stones can be removed from the gall bladder or from the ducts without removing the gall bladder itself. Such decisions depend entirely on the judgment of the surgeon and the condition that he finds at the time of operation. The deliberate delay of surgery when it is distinctly indicated invites unnecessary trouble.

Are there any new hopes on the horizon for baldness?

The type of baldness that is referred to as family pattern baldness still resists the active efforts known to hair specialists. Vitamins, hormones, outrageously expensive creams, lotions and vibratory massages may bring out an occasional quarter inch of fuzz, but in general they are ineffective.

There are types of alopecia or baldness which may be due to prolonged illness with very high fevers, ringworm infection, hormone imbalance and psychological stress. Almost always, with or without treatment except for local infections, the hair will spontaneously grow again.

The most encouraging new approach to pattern baldness has been the transplantation of hair. This is a technique of taking small tufts of hair and implanting them near the edge of the balding area. The method is painstaking but in the hands of highly specialized physicians, this office procedure is said to be effective in a fair number of cases.

Agnew To Speak To City Officials

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Officials of the nation's cities, uneasy over the Nixon administration's urban policy approach, look for reassurance today from Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew.

President-elect Richard M. Nixon had been invited to speak at the 45th annual Congress of Cities but declined because of prior commitments. Agnew was sent instead.

The speakers' list today also included Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Attentive Audience

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The beauty shop was full when one of the employees, Mrs. Robert Hazlett, received a short wave radio call from her husband in Vietnam.

The call was being relayed by a ham operator and in order not to interfere with the reception, the shop manager pulled the switch on all equipment in the shop.

Riponites Vs Harris Poll

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Ripon Society, which calls itself a liberal Republican research group, has come up with a theory that Richard M. Nixon actually lost the real trust of the country by pursuing a "border state strategy" to win the White House. The Ripon idea is that Nixon, back in September, had a landslide victory in his grasp if only he had had the wit to make his pitch to the blacks, the young campus radicals, and the McCarthy liberals. But the "new Nixon," according to the Riponites, fell into the trap baited by Hubert Humphrey: he let himself be cast as an "anti-union" warmonger type without lifting a finger to show he had learned something since the Nineteen Fifties.

There are just two things that are questionable about the Ripon analysis. First, it presents no assurance whatsoever that if Nixon had disowned the "border state strategy" which gave him his margin of victory he might have picked up the compensating electoral votes in New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and Michigan. The second dubious Ripon assumption is that Nixon actually "obliged" the Democrats by playing the "old Nixon" role. True enough, it was the Humphrey strategy to raise the ghosts of the "old Nixon" of Cold Warrior days. No doubt more than a few undecided voters turned against Nixon in the final hours of the campaign because of the persistent effort to portray him as an enemy of all "forward-looking" social legislation. But, as a dutiful reader of all the voluminous position papers and radio scripts which Nixon put out through the October weeks, I could never find anything of the supposed "old Nixon" in them.

Nixon really wanted to cut in on the black vote. However, he wanted to do it without seeming to endorse the black power radicals who have declared war to the hilt on the "honkies." He tried his best to become the champion of a new "black capitalism," but he ran up against the suspicions of Roy Innis and other uncompromising black leaders who, though they refused to endorse the Humphrey Democrats, were leery of anyone carrying a Republican label. The Riponites are a bit unfair in saying that Nixon "ignored" the Negro vote; he just didn't know how to pry the blacks away from old stereotypes. If he had said anything that could be interpreted as pro-black extremism he risked losing all the moderates in the state of the upper South and the lower Atlantic coast without changing anybody's mind in the Northern ghettos.

As for the young, Nixon wigwagged to them that he would get rid of the hated draft the moment that a change in the Vietnamese War permitted reconsideration. It was this bit of wigwagging that Humphrey termed "irresponsible." Why the young should have gone for Humphrey after that (if indeed they did go for him in any numbers) must be set down as an enigma.

What the Ripon theorists lose sight of is the undeniable fact that 1968 was a center-to-right and not a center-to-left year. The Louis Harris poll of December 2, published after the Ripon Society's conjectures, offers absolute confirmation of this. The Harris interviewers discovered that some seventy per cent of the American people consider themselves to be "conservative" or "middle of the road" in their politics. Almost the same proportion think Richard Nixon represents their "image." Breaking the Harris findings down, it becomes apparent that Nixon won by carrying the conservatives 47-32 per cent over Humphrey while holding a practically even balance of 43-42 per cent among the middle-of-the-roads. The self-admitted liberals went to Humphrey by 26-62 per cent. Significantly, 53 per cent of the people think George Wallace is a "radical," while only 17 per cent regard him as a "conservative." Nixon broke even among the young voters and, surprisingly in view of the McCarthyite criticism, carried the college-educated by a 53-36 per cent margin.

Since all "might-have-beens" are theoretically arguable, the Ripon Society's analysis cannot be dismissed out of hand. And, in deference to Ripon's hopes, it will be a good thing if Nixon does find a way of appealing to the blacks and to the young. But the Riponites have a long way to go to get around the figures presented by the Harris pollsters. If those figures can't be conjured away, Nixon still stands out as the master election campaign strategist of our day.

Dear Abby: Conscience Trying To Say Something?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Larry and I are high school sophomores. We have been going steady for a year and plan to marry when we graduate.

Larry heard about a very good book on sex and marriage, and he wants to get it so we can study it together. It is not dirty, Abby. It was written by a doctor and is supposed to have a lot of good stuff about the importance of sex as it relates to married life.

The reason I am writing is because I have always told my mother everything, and for some reason I haven't told her about this. I hate to sneak. What do you think?

LARRY'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I think you haven't told your mother because deep down you know it's wrong. "Studying" a subject is sure to stimulate one's curiosity and interest. And there's no point in "studying" the violin if you have to wait 2 years to practice.

DEAR ABBY: I answer the telephone for a rather large concern. We have these two nice young fellows who do a real good job. But they could do better if their wives would quit calling them at work so much.

I can understand emergency calls, but these wives call up to ask, "Are you planning to work late?" Or, "We got a letter from Joe today." Or, "The baby cut a tooth." Abby, I know both these wives and I wouldn't hurt their feelings for the world, and I certainly wouldn't say anything to the fellows, but if you print this, they may get the hint. Besides, it's not fair to call a person at work to just gab about nothing on company time.

TELEPHONE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Your point is well taken. And may I add that when a man comes home after work and asks his wife "What's new?" it will give them something to talk about.

DEAR ABBY: I just finished a best-selling book on child rearing. The author said that when a child and his parents visit people, the burden of responsibility for the child's behavior is left with the child and the HOST! In other words, a child is more apt to obey an outsider than his own parents.

This really upset me, Abby. When parents come to visit me and bring their children along, I don't think it's MY place to discipline their children. Can't parents see a child walking on the sofa? Why should I have to tell somebody else's child how to behave when his own mother is sitting right there? What's your idea?

MRS. G. W.

DEAR MRS. G.W.: Same as yours. Some of the theories in child rearing books make fascinating reading, but unless they "work" they aren't much good. Don't believe everything you read.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "FLAT IN

Grange Posts Filled By Appointment

The announcement of the new Pickaway County Grange Deputy has just been released by the Ohio State Grange Master, Jim Ross.

Selected to direct the Grange activities of the county is Paul M. Dunkle, a member of Saltcreek Valley Grange.

Selected as the Junior Grange Matron is Mrs. Paul Dawson, a member of Star Grange. She will direct the Junior Grange activities and head the county home economics department.

The position of deputy has been vacant since the death of Wayne Luckhart, who held the appointed chair for over two years.

Dunkle has been an active granger for 12 years, having received his early training in Vinton County, where he was a member of Allensville Union Grange. He has held many offices in the organization and has worked with the state grange for the past three years.

ATLANTA not to feel so sorry for herself. If it weren't for US, those gorgeous, full-bosomed gals wouldn't look so good.

In 1965, he was chosen Prince of the Ohio State Granges and represented the youth at the national convention in that year.

Very active in the youth work of the Grange, he has directed the county youth activities for the past two years and has served on the drill teams, installation teams and participated in many talent contests. On the state level, he has served as youth pianist for three years, and was a staff member of the youth camp for two summers.

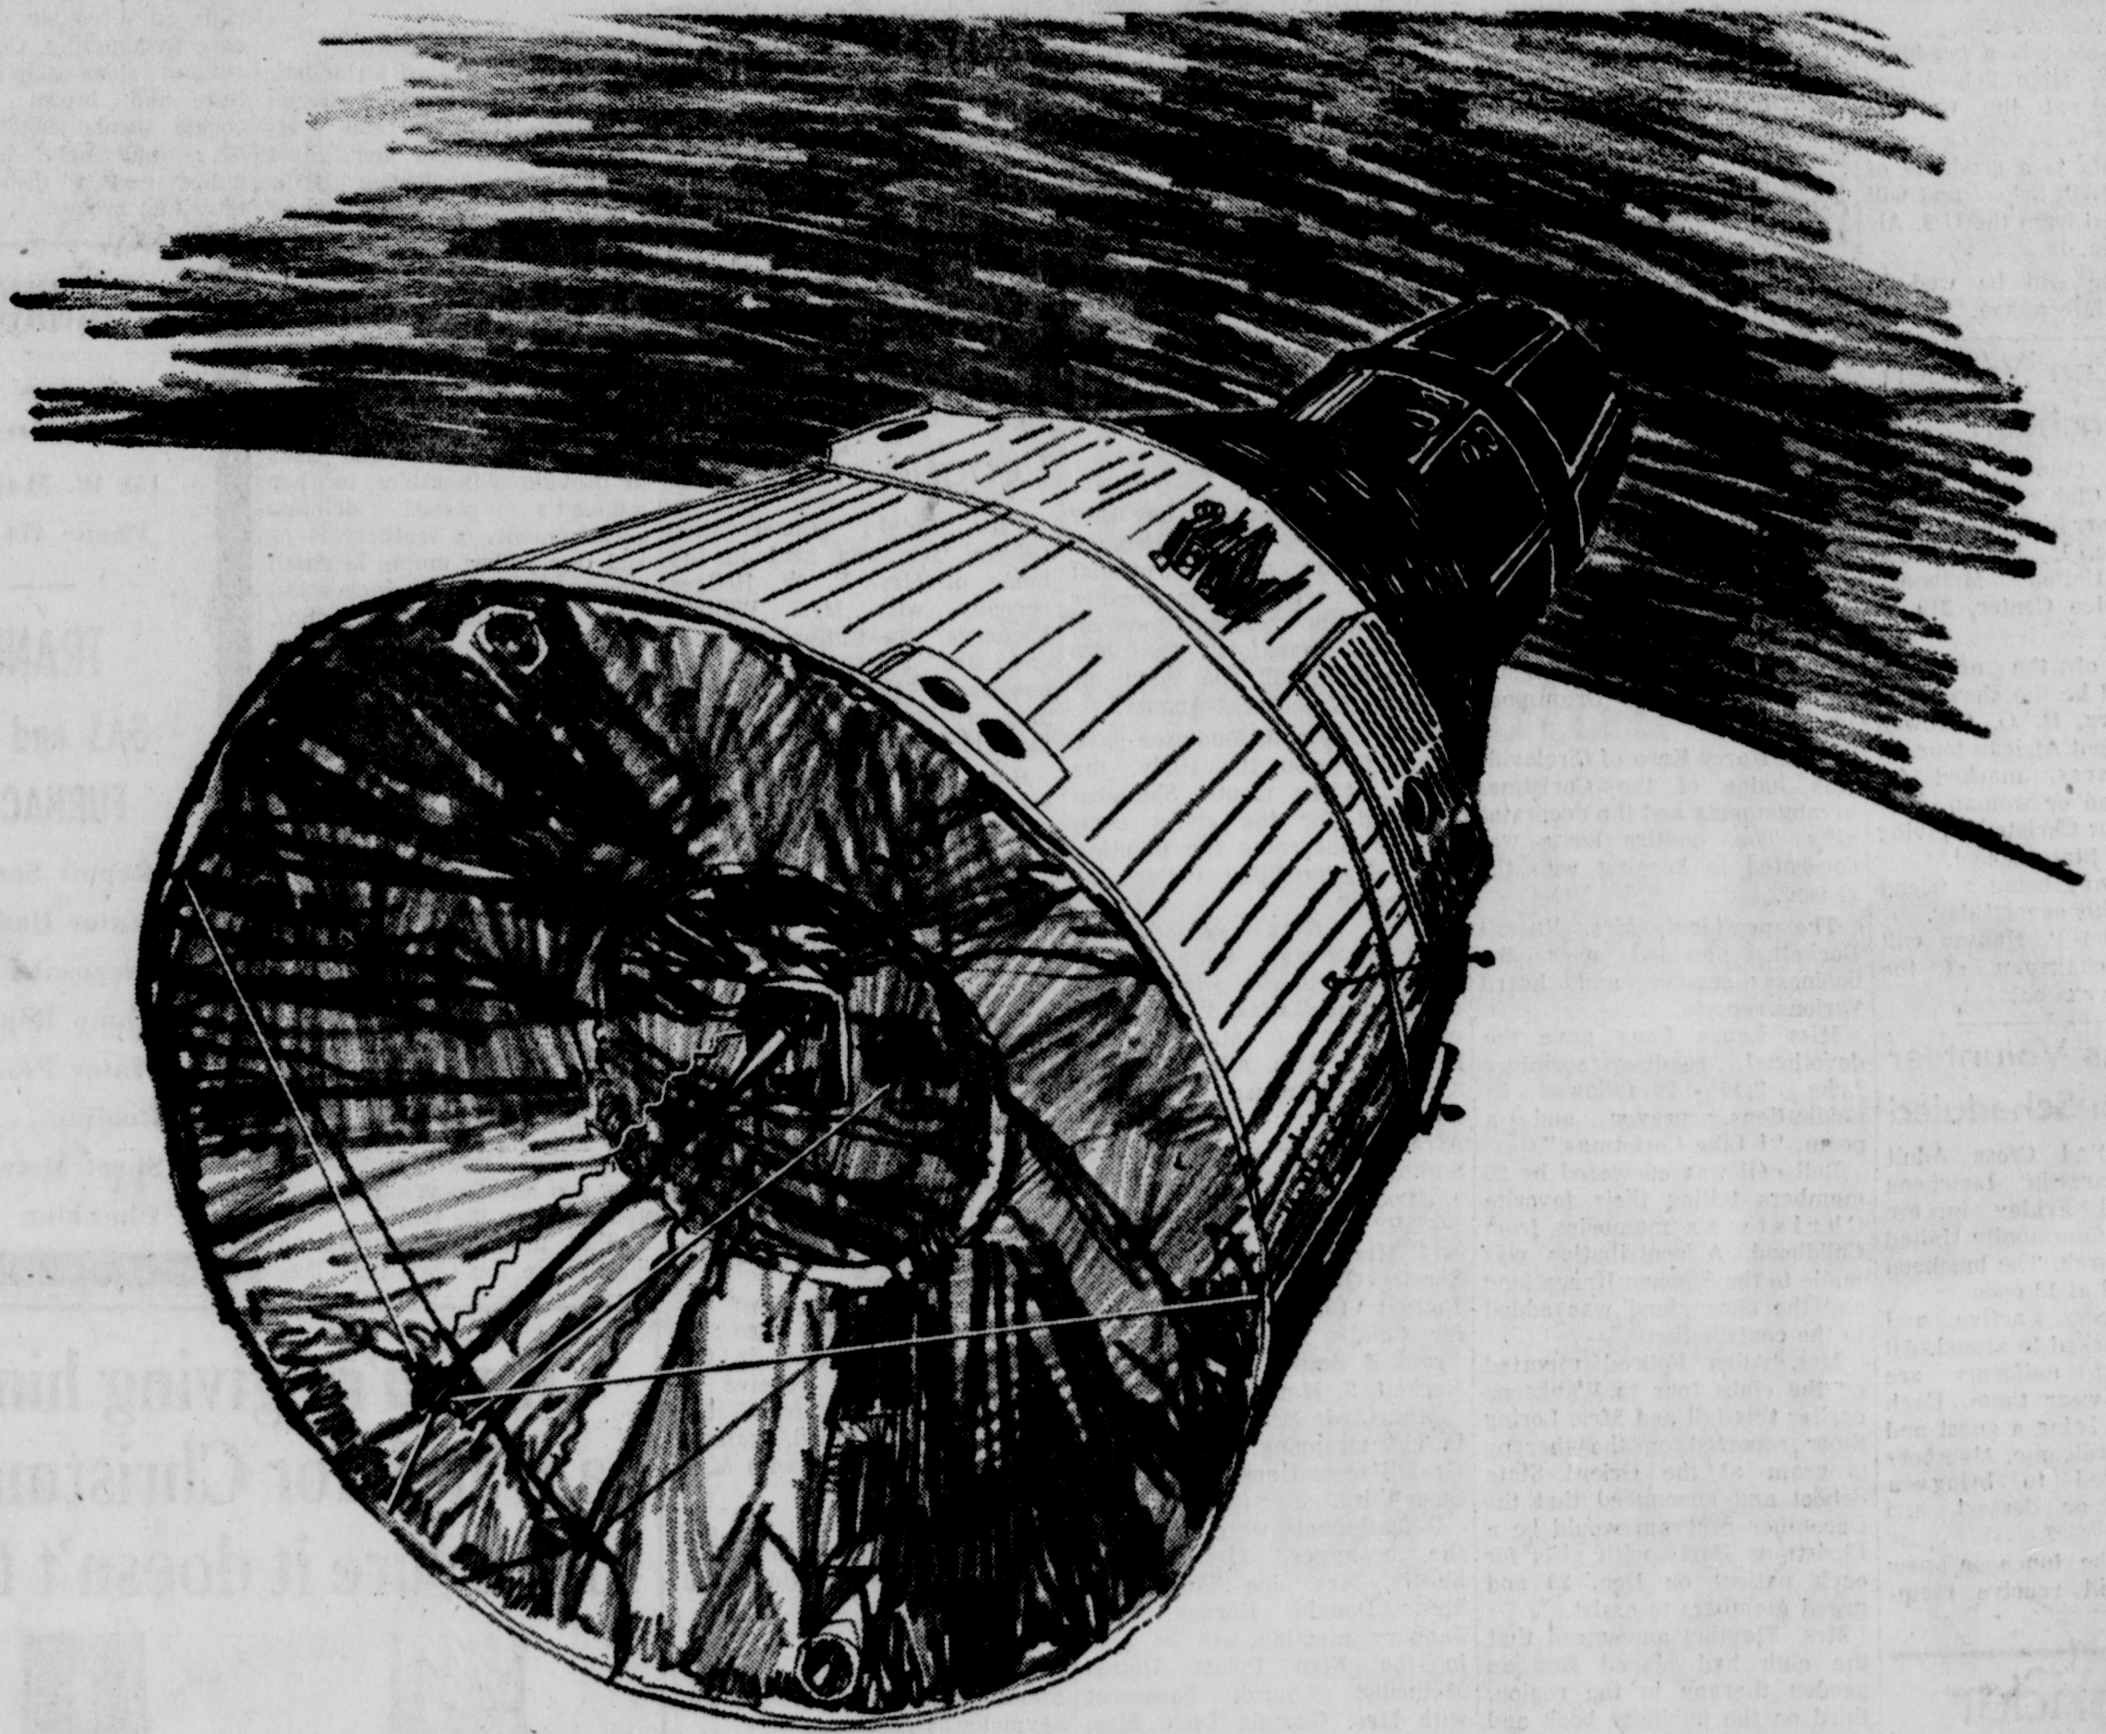

In 1966 and 1968, Dunkle was an honored lecturer in the state and this year served as speaker at the lecturers conference. He currently is lecturer of his Grange and until this appointment has been youth chairman of Pickaway County.

The position of youth chairman will be announced in the near future by the Pomona Master Dorsey Bumgarner.

Mrs. Dawson is well known in grange work in Pickaway County and is active in county home demonstration work. She has been a granger for over ten years and has served the organization in many capacities as both an officer and as a member of many degree teams. Not only has she been a member of five teams, but has served as the captain for two of them.

Presently she holds the office of pomona in her home grange, and in the Pomona Grange she serves as flora.

For many years she has worked with the county youth organization and has served as associate director and substitute for the drill and degree teams. On the installation teams, she has held many offices and last year served as the chairman of the recreation committee.

Poetry is the embodiment in appropriate language of beautiful or high thought, imagination or emotions, the language being rhythmic, usually, and adapted to arouse the feeling and imagination. She closed the program with reading a collection of Christmas poems for children.

Mrs. Glen McCoy gave the members a list of the ages and names of the children in the family that will receive a Christmas basket from the group. Clothing, food, games, toys, etc. may be left with Mrs. McCoy.

Hollow Ware Fills Role In Table Setting Scene

By ELEANOR ROSS

The holiday season is just about upon us — and that, of course, means parties and the planning so necessary for a good time. Guest lists to ponder, recipes to select, food to prepare, and table settings to plan.

Setting an attractive table is always fun and can be exciting — for, with a little imagination and your accessories, you can create a completely new look for every arrangement.

Last holiday season I picked up several good ideas from friends who are expert in doing clever things with their sterling silver hollow ware and flatware. And because sterling's shining beauty and adaptability to every setting make it a natural for the festive season, you might want to try these ideas with your own silver accessories.

Attractive Centerpiece

One friend created an artistic centerpiece by twisting slender bayberry branches and leafy evergreens around her silver candelabra, anchoring them where necessary with florists' wire. Centered between the two three-light candelabra was the silver Revere bowl she filled with shaggy yellow and orange mums and more branches. She alternated yellow and orange candles in the candelabra.

Another hostess, who often gives buffet parties and likes to provide side tables for her guests, placed delicate arrangements of feathery ferns and tiny yellow mums in small silver receptacles on each small table — using baby cups, cigarette urns, mint julep cups, etc. — all things she had collected through the years.

For the large centerpiece in the middle of the buffet table, she featured a silver pitcher overflowing with tall yellow mums and an assortment of green branches. Beneath the centerpiece, she placed a tray piled high with gaily painted gourds, brightly colored leaves and a mixture of the branches used in the main decoration.

Another nice idea is the spacing of small silver hollow ware cups, each holding an arrangement of those pretty daisy-like mums and hawthorn sprigs, and joined together by ferns and huckleberry branches, placed flat on the table.

All of these settings will be appropriate for Christmas Day with the addition of colorful Christmas ornaments, holly sprigs, or perky mistletoe.

Double Service

Many silver service pieces do double duty — such as the tablespoon so right for vegetables, berries, casserole dishes and desserts; the cold meat or buffet fork — for sliced meats, chops, tomatoes, and platter salads; and the gravy ladle — for gravy, sauces or salad dressings.

While going over your silverware, check to see if you still have a complete set. If anything is missing, now is a good time to replace any "strays" — make it a sort of pre-Christmas Christmas present to the household.

If you're giving him a watch for Christmas, make sure it doesn't tick

Make sure it hums. Then it won't be a watch at all. It'll be an Accutron® timepiece.

Bulova left out of Accutron the parts that make a watch run fast or slow.

The Accutron timepiece has no balance wheel, no main-spring, no hairspring. (Therefore no tick.) Instead it has a tiny, electronically-powered tuning fork. (That's what does the humming.)

The tuning fork splits a second into 360 equal parts. The best a ticking watch can do is divide a second into 5 or 10 parts.

Accutron time is so nearly perfect that Bulova guarantees monthly accuracy to within 60 seconds.

It's a particularly good gift for the man who has everything except the right time of day.

Accutron timepieces start at $110.00.

She pointed out that when you are called upon for a lullaby or rhyme you reached back in the memories of your own childhood and recalled songs and verses that were taught to you. Poetry is the embodiment in appropriate language of beautiful or high thought, imagination or emotions, the language being rhythmic, usually, and adapted to arouse the feeling and imagination. She closed the program with reading a collection of Christmas poems for children.

Mrs. Glen McCoy gave the members a list of the ages and names of the children in the family that will receive a Christmas basket from the group. Clothing, food, games, toys, etc may be left with Mrs. McCoy.

Hollow Ware Fills Role In Table Setting Scene

By ELEANOR ROSS

The holiday season is just about upon us — and that, of course, means parties and the planning so necessary for a good time. Guest lists to ponder, recipes to select, food to prepare, and table settings to plan.

Setting an attractive table is always fun and can be exciting — for, with a little imagination and your accessories, you can create a completely new look for every arrangement.

Last holiday season I picked up several good ideas from friends who are experts in doing clever things with their sterling silver hollow ware and flatware. And because sterling's shining beauty and adaptability to every setting make it a natural for the festive season, you might want to try these ideas with your own silver accessories.

Attractive Centerpiece
One friend created an artistic centerpiece by twisting slender bayberry branches and leafy evergreens around her silver candelabra, anchoring them where necessary with florists' wire. Centered between the two three-light candelabra was the silver Revere bowl she filled with shaggy yellow and orange mums and more branches. She alternated yellow and orange candles in the candelabra.

Another hostess, who often gives buffet parties and likes to provide side tables for her guests, placed delicate arrangements of feathery ferns and tiny yellow mums in small silver receptacles on each small table — using baby cups, cigarette urns, mint julep cups, etc. — all things she had collected through the years.

For the large centerpiece in the middle of the buffet table, she featured a silver pitcher overflowing with tall yellow mums and an assortment of green branches. Beneath the centerpiece, she placed a tray piled high with gaily painted gourds, brightly colored leaves and a mixture of the branches used in the main decoration.

Another nice idea is the spacing of small silver hollow ware cups, each holding an arrangement of those pretty daisy-like mums and hawthorn sprigs, and joined together by ferns and huckleberry branches, placed flat on the table.

All of these settings will be appropriate for Christmas Day with the addition of colorful Christmas ornaments, holly sprigs, or perky mistletoe.

Double Service
Many silver service pieces do double duty — such as the tablespoon so right for vegetables, berries, casserole dishes and desserts; the cold meat or buffet fork — for sliced meats, chops, tomatoes, and platter salads; and the gravy ladle — for gravy, sauces or salad dressings.

While going over your silverware, check to see if you still have a complete set. If anything is missing, now is a good time to replace any "strays" — make it a sort of pre-Christmas Christmas as pre-Christmas Christmas.

If you are investing in new cookie sheets, buy those with no sides at all or with partial rims on a couple of sides for ease in handling. Cookie sheets without sides help cookies to bake and brown well. The cookie sheets should be made of a dull metal because the dulled surface also helps the browning process.

If you're giving him a watch for Christmas, make sure it doesn't tick

Make sure it hums.

Then it won't be a watch at all. It'll be an Accutron® timepiece.

Bulova left out of Accutron the parts that make a watch run fast or slow.

The Accutron timepiece has no balance wheel, no main-spring, no hairspring. (Therefore no tick.) Instead it has a tiny, electronically-powered tuning fork. (That's what does the humming.)

The tuning fork splits a second into 360 equal parts. The best a ticking watch can do is divide a second into 5 or 10 parts.

Accutron time is so nearly perfect that Bulova guarantees monthly accuracy to within 60 seconds.

It's a particularly good gift for the man who has everything except the right time of day.

Accutron timepieces start at $110.00.

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Ding Dong changes his mind about capturing Santa but he tricks him into going to Hippierville so the hippies can see that Santa isn't a square.

CHAPTER 7 HESEKIAH

A TERRIBLE thing happened as soon as Santa left Santa Land.

There was a misshapen old dwarf named Heseekiah whose only interest in life was the invention of a machine to take the place of people.

He had been working on his invention for 400 years but he hadn't gotten any further than the discovery of a powerful salt that could turn people into spinning tops. This was just what Heseekiah wanted while he continued to work on his machine to take the place of people.

Before he turned people into spinning tops Heseekiah thought it would be a good idea to try out his salt on some creatures who were like people but still not exactly people. That is to say—elves and fairies and such folk.

Heseekiah thought, "What better place to go than Santa Land?" There would be a lot of creatures he could turn into tops. More important, there were well-equipped workshops where he could continue to work on his machine to take the place of people.

Heseekiah arrived in Santa Land at the very moment Santa and Ding Dong flew off to Hippierville. This was unfortunate for Santa Land because it so happened that Santa knew the one thing in the world that would stop Heseekiah and turn into a nothing.

With Santa out of the way things were easy for Heseekiah. He opened his satchel and put on gloves and a hood that covered his head with only two slits to see through. He took out a long blow pipe and carefully filled it with three cupfuls of salt. The pipe was one of his inventions. It had a round bowl with tiny holes in the bottom and a long stem to blow through.

Heseekiah sneaked up on Santa's porch and knocked. Mrs. Claus came to the door.

"Goodness!" she cried. "Are you another hippie?" For answer Heseekiah stuck the stem of the pipe in his mouth and blew. The salt in the bowl showered over poor Mrs. Claus.

She threw up her hands in surprise and began to spin in a circle. As she spun faster and faster she grew smaller and smaller until she was a very small top, fat in the middle and pointed on the end, spinning away in a pool of salt on the floor.

Heseekiah rushed to the doll shops where the elves were making dolls that could talk and walk and some that could even file their nails. Heseekiah flung open the door and blew on his pipe with all his might. The salt sprayed over the astonished elves. In two seconds they were tiny tops spinning madly around the unfinished dolls.

Heseekiah went to the wagon shop and the sport shop and the electric train shop and the dollhouse shop and even to the reindeer stables. Everywhere he went he turned the creatures into spinning tops. Finally there was no one left in Santa Land except the wicked Heseekiah.

He put away his pipe and discarded his gloves and hood and boots, being careful that no salt should get on his skin. Then he went to the master tool shop where no one was ever allowed except Santa himself. There Santa kept his finest tools and all his books of instruction on how to make things.

Heseekiah locked and bolted the door. He said to himself gleefully, "Here I will stay until I have built my machine to take the place of people."

Adams Named Sales Rep Of Plastics Firm

Marshall B. Aams Jr., has been named sales manager of Seneca Plastics, Talon Division of Textron, Cambridge, Ohio, custom manufacturer of plastic components.

Educated at the University of Kentucky, Adams has spent the past 25 years in the plastics industry. He has served in executive marketing and engineering capacities with General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., and General American Transportation Corp.

Seneca Plastics supplies complete design, molding and finishing services primarily to plastic parts users in the midwest and south. The company serves a wide spectrum of industrial clients, ranging from automotive and appliance manufacturers to producers of furniture and other household items, toys, lawn and garden equipment, electrical components, sporting goods and laboratory-medical equipment.

Hold Strike Talks

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Another bargaining session is scheduled today in an attempt to prevent a strike set for Thursday by 5,000 employees of the Chevrolet-Fisher Body assembly plant at nearby Lordstown.

Caldera is Venezuela's fourth popularly elected president. If he is inaugurated next March, it will be the first peaceful surrender of the presidency to an opponent.

When the decision was announced, Caldera embraced well-wishers at his suburban Los Chorrros home while his supporters filled Caracas street waving the green party flag and honking car horn.

The victory capped a 35-year career in politics for Caldera, who is considered moderately right of center. He ran unsuccessfully for the presidency in 1948, 1958 and 1963.

For his fourth attempt he chose an ambitious reform platform that drew charges of "fascism" from his opponents and won Caldera the lowest percentage of the popular vote ever awarded a Venezuelan president. His reform program appeared threatened by his failure to get a congressional majority.

Stargazer Reported Functioning Properly

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Stargazer, the heaviest and most complex scientific spacecraft ever launched by the United States, sped through space today as flight controllers prepared a series of tests on its star-tracking equipment.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Sunday the spacecraft, Orbiting Astronomical Observatory 2, was functioning properly.

"Everything's fine. The satellite is in good shape," the NASA spokesman said.

Scientists planned today to exercise a major component of OAO's control system, the six trackers designed to acquire selected guide stars for use in aiming the craft's telescopes.

OEA Plans To Probe 2 School Systems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Association plans to look into educational conditions at the North Royalton and East Liverpool school systems.

The OEA's Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission voted Saturday to conduct a preliminary fact-finding study to determine if alleged problems in the districts warrant formal, fullscale investigations.

The craft's 11 telescopes are scheduled to be switched on Wednesday.

The two-ton satellite launched from Cape Kennedy Saturday, is designed to provide astronomers with their first glimpse at the universe unobstructed by the earth's atmosphere.

Marshall B. Aams Jr., has been named sales manager of Seneca Plastics, Talon Division of Textron, Cambridge, Ohio, custom manufacturer of plastic components.

Educated at the University of Kentucky, Adams has spent the past 25 years in the plastics industry. He has served in executive marketing and engineering capacities with General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., and General American Transportation Corp. Seneca Plastics supplies complete design, molding and finishing services primarily to plastic parts users in the midwest and south. The company serves a wide spectrum of industrial clients, ranging from automotive and appliance manufacturers to producers of furniture and other household items, toys, lawn and garden equipment, electrical components, sporting goods and laboratory-medical equipment.

Hold Strike Talks

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Another bargaining session is scheduled today in an attempt to prevent a strike set for Thursday by 5,000 employees of the Chevrolet-Fisher Body assembly plant at nearby Lordstown.

Caldera is Venezuela's fourth popularly elected president. If he is inaugurated next March, it will be the first peaceful surrender of the presidency to an opponent.

When the decision was announced, Caldera embraced well-wishers at his suburban Los Chorrros home while his supporters filled Caracas street waving the green party flag and honking car horn.

The victory capped a 35-year career in politics for Caldera, who is considered moderately right of center. He ran unsuccessfully for the presidency in 1948, 1958 and 1963.

For his fourth attempt he chose an ambitious reform platform that drew charges of "fascism" from his opponents and won Caldera the lowest percentage of the popular vote ever awarded a Venezuelan president. His reform program appeared threatened by his failure to get a congressional majority.

"Everything's fine. The satellite is in good shape," the NASA spokesman said.

Scientists planned today to exercise a major component of OAO's control system, the six trackers designed to acquire selected guide stars for use in aiming the craft's telescopes.

Tiger Cagers Trowned By Grandview, 97-56

By MIKE VAUGHAN
The Circleville Tigers were trounced by the fired up Grandview Bobcats Saturday night in a non-league tilt at Grandview, 97-56.
The Tigers were unable to hold the offense of the hosts as they rampaged with 38 field goals and a 42 per cent shooting average.

The Bobcats were led by Steve Mowery who hit on nine of 26 shots for 34 per cent and made an additional seven points from the free throw line for a total of 25 points and the high man laurels for the game.

Randy Halley was high man for the second straight night with 21 points for the Tigers. He hit 33 percent from the field and added five more markers from the charity stripe.

PERSONAL fouls and rebounding were the biggest problems for the Tigers Saturday night. The Red and Black cagers were able to pull down only 17 rebounds in the game while allowing Grandview 40. Circleville made 15 errors and committed 20 fouls including a technical foul late in the fourth quarter.

As the first quarter began, Circleville got the tip but was unable to control it and turned the ball over to the Bobcats. This was to be an indication of what was to come.

As the period slowly went on, it was evident that the superior height of the hosts was going to be trouble for the Tigers because they were unable to get that second shot needed to make the points. At the end of the first quarter the score was 17-9 with Grandview leading by a safe margin. The eight point difference was as close as the Tigers ever got to the Bobcats.

At the start of the second quarter, Circleville again got the tip from the 6'3" Mowery but was unable to hold on to it long enough to get a bucket. The Tigers in desperation switched from a man to man defense to a zone-press in an attempt to get the basketball.

The Bobcats were unaffected by the press and continued to score almost at will by effectively using the fast break and controlled offense.

The Tigers went into the locker room at the half, losing 40-21.

In the third period, the fired up Tigers matched the hosts basket for basket and rebound for rebound until near the end of the quarter when the superior height of the Bobcats began to take its toll. Grandview was ahead by an impressive 25 points, 65-40.

As the fourth quarter started, the coaches of both teams began to substitute freely. There was little action in the quarter until the home crowd saw the chance for a plus one hundred game for the Bobcats.

As the crowd cheered then on, the Bobcats seemed to lose their composure. Both teams began to shoot freely at any chance they got, even to the extent that tempers flared which brought about Circleville's technical foul.

While the fourth quarter progressed, the baskets from the field became less and the free throws were mounded fast. The game came to a close with Grandview a slim three points from their one hundred goal, 97-56.

The Tigers hit 21 of 65 shots from the field for an average of 34 percent. This average along with Circleville's rebounding and personal fouls committed, brought about this down fall.

Circleville plays Washington C.H. next week in their second SCJ tilt of the year at Washington C.H.

Vikings Lose To Raiders In 99-73 Tilt

The Teays Valley Vikings had another cold shooting night at Reynoldsburg Saturday and lost to the host school, 99-73.

"They were hitting and we weren't", said Viking Coach Bob Hoover when reporting the game.

And that was the story of the game. Reynoldsburg made 60 per cent of the shots they took from the field. Teays Valley made only 29 per cent.

Hoover unloaded his bench in search of the combination that could provide a scoring punch. And 13 players broke into the scoring column for the Vikings, led by Neil Fosnaugh who scored 21 points.

MARK Brinker tossed in 16 points for the losers and Dale Lambert scored 13.

For Reynoldsburg, Fox notched 21 markers.

The Vikings lost the reserve game also.

Royals Top N.Y. Knicks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In the National Basketball Association, the team that gets the latest with the most—comes out on top, as shown by Cincinnati, Atlanta, Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

The Royals, bogged down under an 81-68 deficit late in the third quarter, went on a 21-5 spree behind Adrian Smith and Oscar Robertson and ran off with a 120-115 victory over the New York Knicks Sunday night.

Atlanta was muddling along with a 49-44 halftime lead over Phoenix before breaking loose on a 15-5 binge in a 72-point second half that produced a 121-99 rout over the Suns.

Los Angeles, after a listless first half that left it behind by 10 points, turned loose Wil Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor in the final half for a 132-118 triumph over San Diego.

Philadelphia trailed through most of the first three quarters before running off a 9-1 string en route to a 122-117 victory over Milwaukee.

Howell Fraser Wins Golf Clash

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Armed with a check for $8,000 and an injection of new confidence, teaching pro Howell Fraser will embark on golf's big tour again next month.

Fraser, 28-year-old pro from Panama City, Fla., won the PGA's $50,000 Club Pro Championship Sunday at Century Country Club with a 15-under-par 272.

Cordero Holds Lead For Top Jockey Honor

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
For Angel Cordero Jr., who is musing over the national riding championship, the Display Handicap's outcome was a disappointment. But the Puerto Rican jockey still booted home enough winners over the weekend to continue in the lead for the title.

Cordero rode Robert J. Kleberg's Muse last Saturday in the two-mile $55,700 Display Handicap at Aqueduct, and the pair wound up a badly beaten second, seven-lengths behind Jorge Velasquez and Sylvia Champion's Fast Count.

However, Cordero won the sixth and eighth races Saturday at Aqueduct and then finished first three times Sunday in Puerto Rico to boost his total of winners to 310, two ahead of Alvaro Pineda. Pineda rode two winners Saturday at Bay Meadows and four Sunday in Mexico to run his count to 308.

Fast Count, carrying 109 pounds to 107 for Muse, covered the two miles in 3:23 3-5 in winning the Display, the longest handicap stakes at a major U.S. track and the last big race of the New York season which closes Tuesday.

Sly Bird, topweighted at 110, was third and Suteki, 104, was fourth and last. The winner paid $5.40 and $2.60. There was no show betting.

In other national features, Mister Diz won the $24,300 Senatorial Stakes at Laurel, Fogged In won the $20,000-added San Mateo Stakes at Bay Meadows, Subpet scored in the $11,475 Gold Coast Handicap at Tropical Park. Cordero Holds Lead For Top Jockey Honor

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
For Angel Cordero Jr., who is musing over the national riding championship, the Display Handicap's outcome was a disappointment. But the Puerto Rican jockey still booted home enough winners over the weekend to continue in the lead for the title.
Cordero rode Robert J. Kleberg's Muse last Saturday in the two-mile $55,700 Display Handicap at Aqueduct, and the pair wound up a badly beaten second, seven-lengths behind Jorge Velasquez and Sylvia Champman's Fast Count.
However, Cordero won the sixth and eighth races Saturday at Aqueduct and then finished first three times Sunday in Puerto Rico to boost his total of winners of 310, two ahead of Alvaro Pineda. Pineda rode two winners Saturday at Bay Meadows and four Sunday in Mexico to run his count to 308.
Fast Count, carrying 109 pounds to 107 for Muse, covered the two miles in 3:23.5 in winning the Display, the longest handicap stakes at a major U.S. track and the last big race of the New York season which closes Tuesday.
Sly Bird, topweighted at 110, was third and Suteki, 104, was fourth and last. The winner paid $5.40 and $2.60. There was no show betting.

total of 25 points and the high man laurels for the game.
Randy Halley was high man for the second straight night with 21 points for the Tigers. He hit 33 percent from the field and added five more markers from the charity stripe.
PERSONAL fouls and rebounding were the biggest problems for the Tigers Saturday night. The Red and Black cagers were able to pull down only 17 rebounds in the game while allowing Grandview 40. Circleville made 15 errors and committed 20 fouls including a technical foul late in the fourth quarter.
As the first quarter began, Circleville got the tip but was unable to control it and turned the ball over to the Bobcats. This was to be an indication of what was to come.
As the period slowly went on, it was evident that the superior height of the hosts was going to be trouble for the Tigers because they were unable to get that second shot needed to make the points. At the end of the first quarter the score was 17-9 with Grandview leading by a safe margin. The eight point difference was as close as the Tigers ever got to the Bobcats.

At the start of the second quarter, Circleville again got the tip from the 6'3" Mowery but was unable to hold on to it long enough to get a bucket. The Tigers in desperation switched from a man to man defense to a zone-press in an attempt to get the basketball.
The Bobcats were unaffected by the press and continued to score almost at will by effectively using the fast break and controlled offense.
The Tigers went into the locker room at the half, losing 40-21.
IN the third period, the fired up Tigers matched the hosts basket for basket and rebound for rebound until near the end of the quarter when the superior height of the Bobcats began to take its toll. Grandview was ahead by an impressive 25 points, 65-40.
As the fourth quarter started, the coaches of both teams began to substitute freely. There was little action in the quarter until the home crowd saw the chance for a plus one hundred game for the Bobcats.
As the crowd cheered them on, the Bobcats seemed to lose their composure. Both teams began to shoot freely at any chance they got, even to the extent that tempers flared which brought about Circleville's technical foul.
While the fourth quarter progressed, the baskets from the field became less and the free throws were mounded fast. The game came to a close with Grandview a slim three points from their one hundred goal, 97-96.
The Tigers hit 21 of 65 shots from the field for an average of 34 percent. This average along with Circleville's rebounding and personal fouls committed, brought about this down fall.
Circleville plays Washington C.H. next week in their second SCOT tilt of the year at Washington C.H.

Laurelville lost to Unioto Saturday, 71-61, after leading in the game for three quarters.
The Wildcats were on top, 16-14 at the end of the first period, 32-29 at halftime and 51-48 at the end of the third quarter.
Laurelville outscored Unioto, 52-40, but lost the game on turnovers. The Wildcats made 20 miscues and the Shermans 14. Mike Shaw scored 22 points for the Wildcats.

Los Angeles, after a listless first half that left it behind by 10 points, turned loose Will Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor in the final half for a 132-118 triumph over San Diego.
Philadelphia trailed through most of the first three quarters before running off a 9-1 string en route to a 122-117 victory over Milwaukee.

Vikings Lose To Raiders In 99-73 Tilt

The Teays Valley Vikings had another cold shooting night at Reynoldsburg Saturday and lost to the host school, 99-73.

"They were hitting and we weren't," said Viking Coach Bob Hoover when reporting the game.

And that was the story of the game. Reynoldsburg made 60 per cent of the shots they took from the field. Teays Valley made only 29 per cent.

Hoover unloaded his bench in search of the combination that could provide a scoring punch. And 13 players broke into the scoring column for the Vikings, led by Neil Fosnaugh who scored 21 points.

MARK Brinker tossed in 16 points for the jokers and Dale Lambert scored 13.

For Reynoldsburg, Fox notched 21 markers.

Logan Elm Gains Third Win By Beating Adena, 73-60

Logan Elm over visiting Adena, 73-60, to make the Scioto Valley Conference debut for the Braves a successful one.

It was the third win in as many games for Logan Elm.

Logan Elm led, 18-13, at the end of the first period, but fell behind, 31-26, at halftime. In the second quarter, the visiting Warriors pulled down 15 of their 36 rebounds, and scored eight points on offensive rebounds.

Browns Win Division Title; Face Dallas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cleveland Browns have earned a date with Dallas Dec. 21.

The Browns, led by quarterback Bill Nelsen, won their eighth straight game and wrapped up the National Football League's Century Division title Sunday by nipping Washington 24-21.

The victory set up a rematch of the Eastern Conference showdown which Dallas won 52-14 last year.

"I guess that's something that has to be proven," he said. The loss to Dallas, followed by another defeat by Los Angeles, prompted Collier to replace veteran Frank Ryan with Nelsen, a discard off a losing team. The Browns have won nine of ten games since then.

The Browns made changes in more than half a dozen starting spots, but the big switch was the elevation of Nelsen, picked up in a spring trade with the struggling Pittsburgh Steelers. Nelsen passed 38 yards to Paul Warfield for the touchdown title Sunday.

The Browns, looking limp in the first half, trailed 14-7 until Leroy Kelly crashed across from the one to tie the game in the third period. Don Cockroft's field goal early in the final quarter broke the deadlock and Nelsen struck with the clincher just two minutes later.

Bullet Is Fired Into Team's Bus

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A "bullet wound" in the arm did not hamper Don Westbrook as the Dayton winger scored a hat trick to lead the Gems to a 5-2 International Hockey League victory over Toledo Sunday night.

Team officials reported that Westbrook was nicked in the arm early Sunday when a bullet crashed through the window of the team bus near Bowling Green in Wood County. The wound did not require medical attention.

Howe, Detroit

Top N.Y., 5-1

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

It was another routine night for the 40-year-old hockey player. Two goals, two assists, a regular turn plus some penalty killing and work on the power play. Just a routine Gordie Howe night.

Now in his 23rd National Hockey League season, hockey's all-time scoring king shows little sign of slowing down.

Howe drove Detroit to four first period goals and a 5-1 victory over New York Sunday night, leaving younger players huffing for breath up ice as he controlled play.

Howe wasn't the only hot stick in the NHL Sunday night. Bobby Hull notched his 23rd career hat trick, leading Chicago to a 7-4 victory over Boston. Toronto dropped Pittsburgh 4-1. St. Louis and Philadelphia battled to a 4-4 tie and Minnesota upended Oakland 4-1.

Reports To Army

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Charlie Paulk, the No. 1 college draft choice of the National Basketball Association's Milwaukee Bucks, now is a pick in the military draft, the expansion club said Sunday.

Paulk, 22, who played with Northeastern State of Oklahoma, is to report for Army induction Friday.

Top N.Y., 5-1

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

It was another routine night for the 40-year-old hockey player. Two goals, two assists, a regular turn plus some penalty killing and work on the power play. Just a routine Gordie Howe night.

Now in his 23rd National Hockey League season, hockey's all-time scoring king shows little sign of slowing down.

Howe drove Detroit to four first period goals and a 5-1 victory over New York Sunday night, leaving younger players huffing for breath up ice as he controlled play.

Howe's wasn't the only hot stick in the NHL Sunday night. Bobby Hull notched his 23rd career hat trick, leading Chicago to a 7-4 victory over Boston. Toronto dropped Pittsburgh 4-1, St. Louis and Philadelphia battled to a 4-4 tie and Minnesota upended Oakland 4-1.

Reports To Army

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Charlie Paulk, the No. 1 college draft choice of the National Basketball Association's Milwaukee Bucks, now is a pick in the military draft, the expansion club said Sunday.

Paulk, 22, who played with Northeastern State of Oklahoma, is to report for Army induction Friday.

Man Becomes U.S. Marine After 4 Times In Training

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Younger men than Carl E. Herring join the U.S. Marines. But few are so persistent.

After 11 years and four tries he graduates from boot camp today.

"I never dreamed of any other life," says Herring, now 28, who wants to be a drill instructor.

In Temple, Tex., Herring quit school after the sixth grade at 10 years old and worked in a variety store, then in a Dallas cafe until his 17th birthday arrived and he could enlist.

His determination started to get a real test. On a Marine obstacle course Herring broke his knee and was sent home with a medical discharge. He paid for corrective surgery, then flooded the Corps with letters asking for a medical waiver to get back in.

The Marines said yes, on condition Herring pass its physical requirements. In June he re-enlisted. He broke his arm July 7. On July 28, the day the cast came off, he was washed out of boot camp again, a victim of meningitis.

After three weeks in a hospital, he was back beginning boot camp the fourth time.

"The training is getting easier over the years—a little too easy, I think," says Herring.

The leader of his 70-man platoon, Staff Sgt. Howard Garcia, was a recruit along with Herring in the same company at the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot in 1957.

Both Garcia and 1st Lt. Michael F. Valdez, commander of the 1st Battalion, say Herring is "a good man, a good marine."

Since his first enlistment Herring has married and is the father of two girls. In Albuquerque, N.M., his wife Mitsy, 24, lives with her parents and attends beauty school. Does she understand why Herring fights so doggedly to become a Leatherneck? Carl said, "Maybe not, but she wants me to do what I want."

Police Leader Can't Make It

NEW YORK (AP) John J. Casese heads the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, a union that staged a work slowdown last month and blamed much of the absenteeism on the Hong Kong flu.

On Saturday, Casese was to receive the 1968 service award of the Columbia ESCA Alliance, an Italian-American group, but he failed to show up.

"He's at home," said City Comptroller Mario A. Procaccino, who was to present the award. "In truth and in fact, he's got the Hong Kong flu."

Abel Is Opposed For USW President

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The incumbent president of the United Steelworkers Union may be faced by two opponents for the first time in the union's history as nominations end today for the USW election.

Challenging President I. W. Abel are Emil Narick, a lawyer at the union's international headquarters, and William Litch of Youngstown, Ohio.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — About 100 occupants of the Hillcrest Hotel were evacuated safely Sunday when fire broke out in the lobby.

Officials speculated that the fire, which caused an estimated $25,000 damage, started in a Christmas tree set up in the lobby, but exact cause of the fire had not been determined.

The fire was confined to the lobby. Smoke damage was reported on some of the building's other eight floors.

tinuing a nationwide search for 300 to 400 pieces of costume jewelry, which are decorated with a poisonous tropical bean that could cause death if swallowed.

A Sears spokesman, Ernest L. Arms, Sunday urged buyers of the $1 pins to return them to the store where they were purchased.

Arms estimated that 31 pins imported from Japan by a New York firm were sold to customers in the Chicago area and more than 300 nationwide through 138 Sears outlets in at least 110 cities.

A Food and Drug Administration spokesman in Washington said Sears received 200 boxes, each containing 48 pins. About 12 pins in each box were decorated with the deadly jequirity bean.

The FDA spokesman said some 30 other firms also received one or two boxes each, but there was no way of knowing whether the deadly pins were placed on sale.

The jewelry is made in two designs, a clown face with beans for eyes and a flower with a bean in the center.

New Italian Government Nearly Ready

ROME (AP) — Leaders of Italy's Christian Democratic and Socialist parties are putting Premier-designate Mariano Rumor's blueprint for a new center-left government to crucial ratification tests.

Rumor completed his coalition week of talks with party leaders. It puts emphasis on university and pension reforms to ease the nation's student and labor unrest.

The accord was ratified Sunday by the tiny Republican party, third partner in the coalition. If the leadership councils of the two larger partners pass this program today, Rumor is expected to present his Cabinet choices to President Giuseppe Saragat Wednesday or Thursday.

Political observers said Rumor's government could be ready to face the necessary votes of confidence in parliament by next Saturday.

In a last-ditch effort to dissuade the Socialists from entering another coalition, the Communist party newspaper L'Unita called for left-wing forces to join and block formation of the center-left coalition.

"A new and more advanced balance of forces can be built," wrote party Secretary Luigi Longo. He spoke of "workers, farmhands, and students" demonstrating side by side with "protest exploding everywhere." However, the Communist proposal appeared doomed.

38th Regiment had been trapped in the cordon following an enemy attack on the district town of Dien Ban, 15 miles south of Da Nang.

As the Marines were being pulled out for operations elsewhere, there was little light sniper fire and some mortaring from their rear, showing that swept territory had already been infiltrated again by at least token enemy forces.

The cordon operation was the largest ever conducted by the Marines in Vietnam and their most successful.

It began Nov. 20 within nearly 7,000 U.S. and Korean Marines and Vietnamese infantrymen placed in position in half a day, mainly by helicopter. The area inside the cordon at the outset was approximately 50 square miles.

Government officials evacuated 2,600 peasants and later returned them to their homes after screening them in an effort to trap Viet Cong political officials and agents. Some 73 of these were seized.

The final fighting Sunday and today involved five Marine companies and Vietnamese in 10 armored personnel carriers mopping up enemy soldiers dug into bunkers at the edge of a muddy river. A spokesman said one Marine company had worked into the bunkers before being hit with heavy enemy fire Sunday night. In the darkness, groups of three and four North Vietnamese probed along the Leatherneck lines trying to escape.

Landy Poling, 80, Lockbourne, fell in front of a car 7:32 p.m. Saturday on Barnes Ave.

Hoffman started to stop, and just before he was able to bring his car to a halt, Poling fell in front of it.

Orville Hukill, 43, 916 Lincoln Drive, was uninjured when he crashed into the rail road gates at the Main St. crossing of the N & W Railroad 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Hukill was cited by city police for leaving the scene of an accident, disregarding a railroad signal and intoxication.
